2º Selecciona el icono para acceder desde tu Institución

The screenshot shows the Scopus Preview homepage. In the top right corner, there is a navigation bar with icons for 'Author search', 'Sources', a help icon, and an 'Institution' icon (a building). A large orange arrow points to this 'Institution' icon. Below the navigation bar, there is a 'Sign in' button. A tooltip box is overlaid on the 'Institution' icon, containing the text: 'Get access via your institution', 'Make sure you get full access once you've left your institution.', 'Access anytime, anywhere?', and a 'Check access' button. The main content area is divided into four sections: 'Check access', 'Check out your free author profile', 'Scopus content', and 'Looking for free journal rankings and metrics?'. Each section has a brief description and a call-to-action button or link. On the right side, there are social media icons for LinkedIn, Twitter, Facebook, and YouTube. Below the main content, there are two preview images: one for 'Author profile' and one for 'Sources'.

Introducing CiteScore metrics for journals

We are proud to introduce CiteScore metrics from Scopus — comprehensive, current and free metrics for journal sites in Scopus. Search or browse below to find a source and use the new metrics. Use the annual metrics for reporting, and the 2016 metrics for up-to-date tracking. Be sure to use qualifiers as well as the below quantitative inputs when presenting your research impact, and always cite from the one metric for the quantitative part.

Below the navigation is the heading "Start exploring" followed by the text "Discover the most reliable, relevant, up-to-date research. All in one place." Underneath are three tabs: "Documents" (selected), "Authors", and "Affiliations".

On the right side, there is a "Search tips" link with a question mark icon. The main search area contains a "Search within" dropdown menu set to "Article title, Abstract, Keywords" and a search input field containing the text "Search documents *".
